

HOLORUMINANT STAKEHOLDER EVENT

RUMINANT MICROBIOME MANAGEMENT AND ITS SOCIO-ECONOMIC IMPACT

Wageningen University & Research
Wageningen,
The Netherlands

Friday, November 10th
13:30 - 15:30

Mandatory Registration
Online participation is also possible

WORKSHOP FOR THE IN-PERSON ATTENDEES AGENDA

12:00 – 13:30

Walk-in and networking lunch

13:30 – 13:40

Opening and introduction of the project, Research Director Diego Morgavi, INRAE, the coordinator of HoloRuminant

13:40 – 14:00

Towards microbiome management for animal health in sustainable food production systems, Professor Hauke Smidt, Wageningen University

14:00 – 14:15

Insights from focus group discussions with European farmers and comprehensive assessment of economic impacts in livestock farming, Research professor Jarkko Niemi and Dr. Amer Ait-Sidhoum, Natural Resources Institute Finland (Luke)

14:15 – 14:30

Consumer acceptance of livestock interventions: Understanding preferences and influences, Dr. Amer Ait-Sidhoum, Natural Resources Institute Finland (Luke)

14:30 – 14:40

Q&A and end of online session

14:40 – 15:15

Interactive workshop: Stakeholder expectations and needs regarding ruminant microbiome

15:15 – 15:30

Discussion and Closure

REGISTER TO THE EVENT

www.holoruminant.eu

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement № 101000213